

CURRICULUM VITAE

LEBOWITZ, Joel L.

George William Hill Professor of Mathematics and Physics,
Director, Center for Mathematical Sciences Research,
Rutgers, The State University of New Jersey, New Brunswick

Date of birth: May 10, 1930 Place: Taceva, Czechoslovakia (now Ukraine)

EDUCATION:

Ph.D., Syracuse University, 1956

EDITORIAL POSITIONS:

Editor-in-Chief, Journal of Statistical Physics, 1975-2018
Honorary Editor, Journal of Statistical Physics, 2019-present

Editorial Board:

Communications in Mathematical Physics, 1973-2006; Advisory Board, 2007-present
Communications in Contemporary Mathematics, 1998-present
Associate editor: Dynamics of PDE, 2005-present
Transport Theory and Statistical Physics, 1982-present

HONORS:

National Academy of Sciences, Member 1980-
Grand Medaille of the French Academie des Sciences, 2014
Accademie Nazionale dei Lincei, Italy, Foreign Member, 2015
Bilim Akademisi, Turkey, Honorary Member, 2012
Doctor Honoris Causa, Ecole Polytechnique Federale, Lausanne, 1977, Clark
University, 1999; Syracuse University, 2012
Henri Poincare Prize for the IAMP, 2000
Max Planck Medal of the German Physical Society, 2007
Boltzmann Medal for, IUPAP Commission on Thermodynamics and Statistical Physics, 1992
Dannie Heinemann Prize American Institute of Physics and the American Physical Society's, 2021
Dirac Medal, International Centre for Theoretical Physics, 2022
The A. Cressy Morrison Award in Natural Sciences, The New York Academy of Sciences, 1986
Delmar S. Fahrney Medal, The Franklin Institute, 1995
Heinz R. Pagels Human Rights of Scientists Award of New York Academy of Sciences, 1996
The AAAS Scientific Freedom and Responsibility Award, 1999
Vito Volterra Medal, Accademia Nazionale dei Lincei, 2001
Nicholson Medal for Humanitarian Service, American Physical Society, 2004
Board of Trustees Award for Excellence in Research, Rutgers University, 1993
The Rutgers College Class of 1962 Public Service Award, 1997
Rutgers University Graduate School Teaching Award, 2000-2001
Fellow: AMS, APS, AAAS